

HEAR HISS FOR THE FIRST TIME

New Experience In U. S. Senate Through Caustic Words of Senator Bailey.

GALLERY RESENTED HIS REMARKS

Texas Man Cast Shur Upon the Intelligence of His Audience—Occurs During Lorimer Debate—Beveridge Has Yet to Finish His Speech Against Seating the Senator from Illinois.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Shrilly rising above the expiring applause with which the galleries had greeted a comment reflecting upon the intelligence of those occupying them, a long, sibilant hiss floated over the chamber of the United States senate today. So far as anyone who long has been connected with it could recall, never before had a hiss been heard in that dignified body.

The incident followed a remark by Senator Bailey of Texas. Senator Crawford of South Dakota had made a statement concerning the Lorimer case that brought forth an expression of approval from onlooking opponents of the Illinois senator who sat in the gallery.

"No applause will be permitted from these in the galleries," said the vice president, severely.

Bailey's Bitter Remark. "The applause was the Texas senator, who was in controversy with Mr. Crawford," said the vice president.

From that portion of the audience that had not joined in the previous applause came a slight outburst, despite the presiding officer's caution, but as it failed, out came the hiss.

No notice was taken of the incident by senators or officers of that body. Beveridge Speaks More Than Four Hours.

The day in the senate was largely devoted to the Lorimer case. Senator Beveridge took the floor about 1 o'clock and spoke for more than four hours. He did not conclude, and suspended with the understanding that he would resume tomorrow. The Lorimer case is the subject of Mr. Beveridge's speech in his own behalf.

Senator Burrows, in charge of the question in behalf of the committee on privileges and elections, had previously given notice that after the conclusion of Mr. Lorimer's speech he would speak. That it had been given notice that he would speak.

There was a general acquiescence in this plan until it was found that Mr. Beveridge would speak for more than four hours. The new arrangement will give the Indiana senator the close of the session, unless he is able to finish his responsibility for prolonging it to make reply to him.

Discussion Grew Spirited. The most spirited part of today's discussion was the speech of Mr. Beveridge. He was interrupted by Mr. Gallinger. He interrupted Mr. Beveridge as to the amount of the money which the latter had freely charged had been used in the Lorimer election.

Mr. Beveridge replied that it had been received from Brown, Broderick and Wilson. "But where did Brown, Broderick and Wilson get it?" persisted Mr. Gallinger. Mr. Beveridge confessed that he did not know, and to assist him in the matter the senator suggested that as the men who had confessed to receiving the money were a band of thieves, he would tell whether there was any foundation for their charges in this instance.

Mr. Beveridge made it plain where the money came from, Mr. Crawford said.

HEAVIEST BATTERY IN THE WORLD. On Two New Battleships for the United States—House Completes Naval Bill.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The house today completed the naval appropriation bill and will pass it tomorrow morning. As agreed to when ready for amendment today, it provides for the construction of two new battleships, two fleet colliers, eight torpedo boat destroyers and four submarine torpedo boats. The law authorizes the purchase of the largest ever constructed in this country, and while the authorization for the construction of two new battleships at $2,000,000 each, there is a likelihood that they may go up to $3,000,000.

Twelve 14-Inch Rifles. The new battleships will have twelve 14-inch rifles, the heaviest battery ever placed on a ship in this country, or in the world. These guns will be arranged in four turrets, three guns in each turret. This arrangement is entirely new, and has never before been used on a ship, however, and Japan has ordered a battleship-cruiser carrying a similar battery.

Hobson Wanted Another Ship. The decision in favor of two battleships came on a test vote on a motion to cut the number down to one. This motion was defeated, 139 to 114. A motion to cut the number of battleships to three, was defeated, 161 to 9. Mr. Hobson sought to add two battleships to the number authorized by the building program, but was again defeated.

Another Amendment Proposed. Representative Rucker of Colorado proposed an amendment to the bill for the increase of the navy. Mr. Rucker of Wyoming sought to add two battleships and two submarines and Mr. Sulzer to increase the number of colliers to three and Mr. Humphrey of Ohio to increase the number of submarines to six. All these amendments failed.

Much Interest at Hartford on Proposed Amendment to Federal Constitution—Hartford C. L. U. Appears.

Hartford, Feb. 21.—This was a field day for committees hearings at the office of the chief justice, all 118 matters assigned for hearings. The largest crowd was in the judiciary room, where more than 100 people were present to hear the arguments on the proposed amendment to the federal constitution.

Income Tax Is a Good Thing. T. M. Crowley of Hartford, representing the Workmen's Political League, and Mayor Fisher of Middletown, representing the Central Labor Union, advocated such a measure to be put to a vote.

Over 5,000 Will Pay in Connecticut. "The income tax is in a sense inquisitorial, but it has proved more satisfactory than any alternative tax," said Mr. Crowley. "Three-fourths of the tax raised in this country are raised by the general property tax, and they, of course, fall heaviest upon the masses. There are probably 200,000 taxpayers in Connecticut, and between 5,000 and 10,000 are liable for the income tax."

Argument in Opposition. Francis H. Parker, in the house last session, spoke in opposition to the proposed amendment. He said that the matter should be determined not by a count of noses, "We had better go to the people and let them decide the matter," he said. "Theory and practice widely differ. The difficulty is that the income tax is a new thing, and we have no precedent to guide us. At what point will you begin to tax incomes? Wherever you begin to tax incomes, you will be taxing the masses. It is the masses who will be taxed, and they will be taxed heavily."

RESTRICTION ABOUT SUBMARINES. An amendment was adopted providing that no part of the money appropriated for the construction of submarines shall be used for any firm or corporation which had not at the time of beginning work on the construction of the submarine been in existence for at least one year and for all laborers and employees who were to be employed on the boats.
